Welcome to Fall Semester!

This newsletter can be a big help

Whether you're a new Global Campus student or returning this term, we hope you'll keep an eye out for this newsletter. It offers regular roundups of events, scholarships, deadlines, contests, and announcements that affect Global Campus students.

The newsletter also keeps you up-to-date on the schedule for Global Connections, a unique online program that brings you extracurricular events, including info sessions led by WSU faculty, fun cultural presentations, and other offerings that let you get the most out of your university experience.

Global Connections

Enhance your mind with Mind Mapping

Sept. 8 at 5:30 p.m.

Spotlight

Ask the VP a question

Sept. 16 at 5:30 p.m.

The vice president of WSU Academic Outreach and Innovation, which includes Global Campus, is holding his annual virtual Town Hall at 5:30 p.m. Sept. 16. Dave Cillay will answer your questions live, but Global Connections is also collecting questions in advance at global.connections@wsu.edu.

Free backpack: If you submit a question by Friday, Sept. 11, you will receive a Global Connections drawstring backpack.

Learn to connect information in new ways with WSU instruction librarian Holly Luetkenhaus. This session will teach you how to organize ideas and increase your cognitive ability by mapping links between concepts. The end result will be an increased ability to write a great paper—and an enhanced understanding of the logical connections between disparate facts.

The How and Why of Annotating (Part One)

Sept. 10 at 5 p.m.

Watch the video preview

Students are sometimes asked to annotate books and papers, which involves making notes directly on the pages. In this online presentation, WSU academic librarian Lorena O'English will discuss different approaches to annotating.
